GENEALOGY OF THE BALDWIN FAMILY

This work is primarily one of compilation only. My main objective has been to trace and chart the descendants of Lieutenant Henry Baldwin. Members of the family have furnished the bulk of the information contained herein. The interest evinced by them and their cooperation have been more than gratifying, in fact it has often been a much needed spur to make me carry on at such times as my interest lagged. I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for the assistance you have given me. However, I must extend special thanks to Mrs. J. Edward (Edith Cantt) Duker, Mrs. John Ashby (Laura Hanson) Baldwin, and Mrs. William P. (Mary Hamilton Baldwin) Hall, Jr. on each of whom I have called many, many times.

ANTECEDENTS

As previously stated, the primary object of this work is to chart the descendants of Lieutenant Henry Baldwin. However, it seems appropriate and of interest to summarize briefly his ancestry.

Some claim that he was descended from one John Baldwin, who came to Jamestown, Virginia, in 1621. However, I have been unable to find any evidence to substantiate this. On the contrary Aunt Janie (the late Mrs. Frederick Jay Cotton), who was most tireless and painstaking in her research tried her best to find such proof but without success. Further circumstantial evidence that this is not the case is evinced by the fact that several recognized and reputable genealogists agree that Maria Graham Woodward, second wife of Lieutenant Henry Baldwin, was a lineal descendant of said John Baldwin. Why, if they have been able to trace her descent from John could they not be able to find any trace of Henry's ?

It is proven that Lieutenant Henry was a grandson of a former Henry who is generally believed to have come to the colony directly from England and settled in Anne Arundel County, Maryland, in about 1725. This Henry, if he was not a descendant of the above mentioned John, was undoubtedly from the same family of Baldwins who were residents of the Parish of Aston Clinton, County of Bucks, England.

Henry (I) was born in 1700 and died in 1730. He married Mary _____ about 1724 and had issue:

i Edward (2), b 15 Oct 1725; d 26 Aug 1769

ii Mary, b 24 Oct 1727; d

iii Henry, b 27 Oct 1728; alive in 1761

Edward (2), Henry (I) was born the fifteenth of October 1725 and died on the twenty-sixth of August 1759 in All Hallows Parish, Anne Arundel County, Maryland. Edward (2) married about 1747, Susan Meek. She was a great-great-grand daughter of ^{Gay} Meek who came to the Colony prior to 1666 and probably prior to 1662. Susan and Edward (2) had issue:

i James, b 1748 (?); d 1810

ii Henry (3), b 23 Dec 1753; d 5 Oct 1793

LIEUTENANT HENRY BALDWIN

Lieutenant Henry Baldwin (3) represents the third generation of the Baldwin family (Anne Arundel County, Maryland, branch) in America. He was born the twenty-third of December, 1753, and died the fifth of October, 1793, in Anne Arundel County. He lived at Rising Sun, on "Baltimore Hill" about two miles from Crownsville, Anne Arundel County.

On the thirty-first of December, 1774, an agreement was entered into between William Woodward, Sr. of Anne Arundel County, of the one part, and James and Henry Baldwin, of the other part, in the matter of the boundries of their respective lands. On the eighth of May, 1783, Henry and James conveyed land to William Woodward of Anne Arundel County, and on the ninth of June, 1789, Robert Couden of Annapolis, merchant, releases to Henry Baldwin of the same county "gentleman," part of "Howard's First Choice" and "Howard's and Porter's Range".

On the twenty-sixth of July, 1792, James Baldwin of Anne Arundel County "planter" and "Captain" Henry Baldwin of the same county, both sons and devisees of Edward Baldwin, formerly of Anne Arundel County, deceased, partition their respective lands. "Whereas, said Edward Baldwin, by his will dated the twenty-ninth of August, 1759, devised to said James Baldwin and Henry Baldwin and their heirs, forever, the lands mentioned in said will," the said James and Henry agreed to make partition of said lands; namely parts of "Howard's and Porter's Range" (formerly the property of their father, Edward Baldwin), and "Howard's First Choice". The document was signed by James Baldwin, with consent of the latter's wife, Maria Baldwin.

On the eighth of May, 1793, William Woodward (with wife Jane) and James Baldwin, all of Anne Arundel County, convey to Henry Baldwin part of "The Maiden" (thirty and one half acres) and on the same date, Henry Baldwin (with wife Maria) and James Baldwin convey to William Woodward, Sr., part of the same tract, and "Howard's and Porter's Range".

On the twenty-fourth of July, 1795, Maria Baldwin, widow of "Captain" Henry Baldwin, deceased, manumits a negro girl named Eleanor.

Henry Baldwin is styled "gentleman" and also "Captain" in the records although his highest rank in the Army was Lieutenant. He was appointed a sergeant in the Third Regiment, Maryland Line, the twenty-sixth of February 1777, and commissioned Ensign the twenty-seventh of May 1782; commissioned Lieutenant in the same regiment the eleventh of February 1780; signed as Lieutenant in a "Return of the Commissioned, Non-Commissioned Officers and Private of the 3rd Company under Captain John Sprigg Belt, who have been in the service since the first of August (1780) to the first of January 1781." He appeared as Lieutenant of the 4th Company, 3rd Battalion commanded by Captain Francis Revelly; again as Lieutenant in the second Regiment, in the arrangement of the Maryland Line, of the first of January, 1783, and finally in a list of "accounts settled", covering a period of continuous service from August 1780 to November 1783.

Heitman, in his "Historical Register of officers of the Continental Army, 1775-1783," furnished this record of Henry Baldwin of Maryland. "Sergeant, 3rd Maryland, 26th February, 1777; Ensign and Quartermaster, 3rd Maryland, 27th May, 1778; Lieutenant, 11th February, 1780; transferred to 2nd Maryland, 1st January, 1783; retained in Maryland, April 1783, and served to 15th November, 1783.

The records of the United States Pension Bureau at Washington show that Bounty Award No. 245 for 200 acres of land was issued to Lieutenant Henry Baldwin, of the Maryland troops, Revolutionary War, the nineteenth of August, 1791, on account of his military service. This warrant was located in Delaware County, State of Ohio. Patent issued dated March 20, 1800.

^{The}~~ten~~ man-cupative will of Henry Baldwin was dated as of the third of October, 1793, and recorded the eleventh of February 1794. It was very brief and recited the following bequest only: "It is my desire in case I die that my little grey horse, which Jenny Rawlins commonly rides, and all my wearing apparel, except my watch, be given to Jenny Rawlins". In the "Account of Sales" in the office of the Register of Wills at Annapolis, is found the inventory of the estate of Henry Baldwin, deceased, dated the nineteenth of April, 1794, with Maria Baldwin as administratrix.

"Captain" Henry Baldwin married (1) on the twenty-first of January, 1784, Sarah Hall, daughter of John Hall and widow of Francis Rawlings, Jr. (d 1780); married (2) on the twenty-fifth of January, 1790, Maria Graham Woodward. Maria Graham Woodward was the great grand daughter of Henry Woodward who was born about 1665 and died about 1730 in England. He was a resident of Butts, County Surrey. His son, William Woodward, was born in England about 1700 and died in Baltimore in 1774. He was a goldsmith by occupation and resided in London (1753), Annapolis (1759) and later removed to Baltimore. He was a member of Goldsmith Hall, London, which indicates that he was a banker. Maria Graham was also a descendant of James Garrett (born 1630 in England), Richard Warfield (d 1704), Thomas Crutchley (d 1710), John Davidge (d circa 1699) all of prominent early Maryland families, as well as the John Baldwin previously mentioned who originally settled in Jamestown, Virginia. (Editor's Note: The foregoing was taken, by permission, almost verbatim from the book "Summerfield Baldwin" and was prepared by the late Charles Gambrill Baldwin)

Lieutenant Henry Baldwin was an original member of "The Society of the Cincinnati". This Society was instituted 10 May, 1783, with General George Washington as its first President General. Membership was confined to officers who had served a minimum of three years in the Continental Army or one of the State Militias attached thereto. Also qualified were officers who had been invalidated out of service (wounded) or taken prisoner regardless of length of service. In addition, the sons of officers who had been killed qualified for membership. ^{Right to successor membership is based on the law of primogeniture} The principles of the Society are stated as follows:

"The following principles shall be immutable and form the basis of The Society of the Cincinnati:"

"An incessant attention to preserve inviolate those exalted rights and liberties of human nature, for which we have fought and bled, and without which the high rank of a rational human being is a curse instead of a blessing.

"An unalterable determination to promote and cherish, between the respective states, that union and national honor so essentially necessary to their happiness, and the future dignity of the American Empire.

"To render permanent and cordial affection among the officers. This spirit will dictate brotherly kindness in all things, and particularly extend to the most substantial acts of beneficence, according to the ability of the Society, towards those officers and their families, who unfortunately may be under the necessity of receiving it."

This edition of the Baldwin Genealogy comprises only the descendants of Lieutenant Henry Baldwin through his only son, William Henry. I am now starting to list and chart his descendants through his two daughters, Sarah Hall Baldwin Hammond, wife of Denton Hammond, and Eliza Baldwin Worthington, wife of Thomas Worthington. However, I anticipate that this will be a much more difficult task and I cannot estimate how long it will take to complete it. I only hope that I will live long enough to do so and if not that someone will be interested enough to take up where I am forced to leave off. As fast as any charts are completed, they will be sent to the subscribers to this edition.

HOW TO USE THE BALDWIN GENEALOGY

By following the lines and the chart references at the top and bottom of each page, as well as references on the charts themselves, lineage may be traced from any given point. Lateral relationships may be verified in the same manner.

On the charts where no specific date follows the standard abbreviations (b for born, m for married, d for death) complete information is not currently available. Where no abbreviation (d) is noted, that member of the family is still living.

In order to facilitate quick reading of the charts, all family names are capitalized, except where they represent names acquired by previous marriage. In this case they appear in parentheses.

In the alphabetical index, each person is listed under the family name. Married women are recorded both by family and married names, the latter in parentheses.

The first, or general, chart (c) depicts the first four generations of the family through William Henry Baldwin, the only son of Lieutenant Henry Baldwin. Since this chart is designed to afford a rapid orientation among listings of members of the early generations of the family there are no dates on it.

The Coat of Arms of the

and the English Ancestry of

HENRY BALDWIN

"The name Baldwin is said to be one of the oldest and most historic of English surnames. This name was very popular in England in the eleventh century and, as it was near this time that the custom grew up of having more than one name, the descendants of those who had been called simply 'Baldwin' called themselves John Baldwin, etc. Tracing back to its earliest origins the name is found to have its root in the ancient German or Scandinavian tongue and has the meaning 'bold water' or 'bold, courageous friend'. In Latin it appears as Baldeus, in French as Baudoin, in Italian as Baldino and in German as Baldwin."

"Perhaps the first Baldwin to appear in history is Baldwin, son of Gau, a young French knight who was killed in battle in the year 775. In 837 we hear of 'Baldwin of the Iron Arm'. The name was born by the former Earls of Flanders, contemporaries of Alfred the Great, and it spread over a large part of Europe, being found in France, Germany and even Italy and Denmark, as well as in Flanders and England. Matilda, daughter of Baldwin V, Duke of Flanders, married William of Normandy and went with him to England at the time of the conquest in 1066; she was the mother of Robert, who became the ruler of Normandy, and of William Rufus, who succeeded his father as King of England." (One Baldwin, Duke of Flanders, perhaps the one referred to above, became King of Jerusalem.) "There were other members of the Baldwin family who came to England about this time, as the name appears in the roll of the famous Battle Abbey, a monastery created by William the Conqueror to commemorate the Battle of Hastings. The principal home of the English family was in the County of Bucks, where, early in the Colonial Period, several of them emigrated to the New World to found here at least two and probably more distinguished lines of Baldwins."¹

1. The above paragraphs are a verbatim quotation from Burke's 'ley's' 'Dictionary of English and Welsh Names'.

The coat of arms as given in this book was derived basically from a description in Burke's "General Armory" for the Baldwin family of the Parish of Aston Clinton, County of Bucks, England, from which it is generally agreed that our branch of the Baldwin family in America is descended. I have seen three other purported reproductions of the coats of arms of said Baldwin family. Two of these agree substantially with the one I have shown. The third, which was prepared by a commercial firm calling themselves Genealogists, and which, according to two recognized genealogists to whom I have talked are utterly unreliable, I have summarily dismissed from consideration as there is nothing in Burke to substantiate anything save the motto, which is the same.

As for the two others, the main difference is that they have shown olive branches where I have shown oak leaves. Burke states unequivocally that there should be "Ar, six oak leaves, in pairs, two in chief (i.e. above the chevron) and one in base vert (i.e. below the chevron)". Lipscomb's "History of Bucks" (1830-1897, Chart 17) ordered a reproduction of this coat of arms it was submitted to him showing a squirrel sejant. For some reason he took exception to this so, on his insistence, it was changed to a lion couchant. In no book on armor have I been able to find anything that might suggest a helmet placed. The other difference of any significance is in the crest. One of these that I have seen shows a lion couchant and the other a helmet plumed whereas I show a squirrel sejant. The first of these can probably be explained by a family tradition which says that when the first Christopher Columbus Baldwin (1830-1897, Chart 17) ordered a reproduction of this coat of arms it was submitted to him showing a squirrel sejant. For some reason he took exception to this so, on his insistence, it was changed to a lion couchant. In no book on armor have I been able to find anything that might suggest a helmet placed.

In considering these discrepancies it must be born in mind that it is the rule rather than the exception to find such variations in coats of arms. This is particularly true as regards the crest as it was not unusual for two branches of a family to use different crests to indicate from which of two brothers they were descended.

I

The first ancestor (circ) of Henry Baldwin of whom we have record was:

RICHARD BALDWIN¹, yeoman, of Dorridge or Durdridge, was probably the Richard who, family tradition says, was the heir of Sir John Baldwin, Chief Justice of England in 1536, and Lord of the Manor of Aylesbury. He may have been the son of Sir John but was more likely a nephew. His will, in which the name is spelled Bawldyn and Bawldyn, was made in the sixth year of the reign of Edward VI (1523), and proved January 16, 1552. Richard married Ellen Poole, whose will was proved October 24, 1556, and had issue:

- i. Henry², of whom later
- ii. John
- iii. Agnes
- iv. Alia (Alice, sic)
- v. Cicely
- vi. Letice

II

HENRY BALDWIN², (Richard¹), died in 1602. He married Alice King, who was buried November 23, 1626, and had issue:

- i. Sylvester³, of whom later.
- ii. John³, of whom later.
- iii. Richard³, of whom later.
- iv. Robert
- v. Jane m James Bonus
- vi. Mary m Richard Salter
- vii. Agnes (Anne) m Henry Stonehill

(Register of Her Majesty's Court of Probate in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury)

III

SYLVESTER BALDWIN³, (Richard¹, Henry²), son of Henry and Alice (King) Baldwin, died June 21, 1628, on the passage to America in the ship "Martin". He married Jane Wells and had issue, among possible others:

- i. Henry⁴, who received landed estates in England from his Uncle Richard (see below) and almost certainly never came to America. Circumstantial evidence has convinced many genealogists of repute to believe that Henry Baldwin who appears in Annapolis in 1725 was his grandson.
- ii. Richard⁴ m Sarah Bryan and became the New England emigrant and the progenitor of the prominent Baldwin family in that state.
- iii. William

The above information regarding Richard¹, Henry² and Sylvester³ is given in a "Baldwin Genealogy" prepared for the late Mrs. Lewis Worthington Baldwin (Chart 19) by the American Genealogical Society, Inc. While your author has found many provable errors in that work these particular citations are in accord with information obtained elsewhere and are believed to be correct.

JOHN BALDWIN³, (Richard¹, Henry²). Little is known about him except that both he and his son John⁴ inherited from his brother Richard's estate (see below). It would appear that this John⁴ was the first Baldwin to emigrate to America. The magazine "Adventures of Purse and Person" published by the Order of the First Families of Virginia has this to say about him:

"JOHN BALDWIN, listed in the master as a 'freeman', came in the TIGER, 1622 and at the census of 1623 was among those living 'at the plantation over against James City', which had been assigned to George Sandys, Treasurer of the colony.

The TIGER, a pinnace of 40 tons, cleared her English port, with forty passengers, August 1621. - - - The crossing was rough and the pinnace met with real adventure.

' - - - the TIGER in her passage being driven by ill weather to farr the north Cape fell into the hands of the Turks in her way but it pleased God to deliver her out of their hands by a strange accident. So, as she escaped that danger and came safely with her people to Virginia - - -. They found the people in Virginia in good health.'

There is no record of the 'strange accident' which enabled the TIGER to elude her would be captors."

John⁴ acquired land near Jamestown which he sold in 1637. He next appears in the records when he patents 300 acres on the Eastern Shore of Virginia in 1648 in what is now Accomac County. It is highly probable that he returned to England during this period to claim his inheritance from his Uncle Richard who died in 1636. While on the Eastern Shore he married one Lydia Wilkens and among their descendants we find Maria Graham Woodward, second wife of Henry Baldwin (1753-1793) and Denton Hammond who married Sarah Hall Baldwin, said Henry's daughter by his first wife. Thus it is that all of the living descendants of the Henry Baldwin who is the focal point of this work are descendants of this John⁴ and this is the reason for the inclusion of this brief history of John⁴.

RICHARD BALDWIN², (Richard¹, Henry²). Little is known about this Richard except that in the Library of Congress in a work entitled "Notes on the Ancestry of Sylvester Baldwin" may be found the "Will of Richard Baldwin of St. Leonard". This will is in the "Principal Register of Her Majesty's Court of Probate in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury" and was proved November 29, 1632. It would appear that Richard died without issue. The will reads:

"I, Richard Baldwin of Dun Bridge in Parish of Aston Clinton, County of Bucks" and makes the following bequests:

To Henry Baldwin son of my brother Sylvester, land called Brays Eagle
 " my wife Christian
 " my brother John Baldwin
 " John Baldwin son of my brother John
 " John, David, Mary and Sarah, children
 " of my sister Mary Salter
 " Mary and Jane daughters of my sister
 " Jane Bonus, money
 " Ann Bryant daughter of my brother Robert Baldwin
 " and to Richard Bryant her son certain real estate
 " Henry Stonehill son of sister Anne Stonehill
 " Anne Stonehill daughter of said sister
 " Richard Baldwin and William Baldwin sons of my brother
 " Sylvester Baldwin, money
 " money and
 " real estate

It is hoped that the inclusion of this will may clarify the probable relationship between the three families of Baldwins who settled in Virginia, (later moving to South River, Anne Arundel County, Maryland), Connecticut and Severn River, Anne Arundel County, Maryland, in that chronological order.

AMERICAN ANCESTRY

I

HENRY BALDWIN¹, (presumably the grand son of Sylvester Baldwin above) was born, circa 1700, in England. He died, circa 1730, in Anne Arundel County Maryland, intestate, without inventory or administration account. The only known record that has been found is when he and his wife, Mary appear on the records of All Hallows Parish to have brought there three children to be baptised. Henry married, presumably in England, Mary....., circa 1724, and had issue:

- i. Edward², of whom later.
- ii. Mary, b 24 Aug 1727
- iii. Henry, b 27 Dec 1728: alive 1761

II

EDWARD BALDWIN², (Henry¹), was born in All Hallows Parish, Anne Arundel County, Maryland, October 26, 1725.

On the twentieth of September, 1753, Edward Baldwin of Anne Arundel County, "planter", for b 120, purchased from Charles Worthington and Sarah his wife, of Baltimore County, parts of "Howard's First Choice", "Howard's and Porter's Range" and "Howard's Addition." On the twenty-seventh of October, 1756, he acquired from John Maccubin certain personal property. He served on the Grand Jury in 1756.

The will of Edward Baldwin was executed the twenty-sixth of August and proved the tenth of September, 1759. He devised to his sons James and Henry Baldwin, "my dwelling plantation", part of "Howard's First Choice", part of "Howard's and Porter's Range" and part of "Howard's Addition", both said sons being minors under fourteen years of age; to his daughters Deborah and Lydia Baldwin (minors) he left £10 sterling apiece. He appointed his brother, Henry Baldwin, his executor, and gave him the care of his children during their minority. The witnesses under the will were Cornelius Howard, Sanders Baldwin and George Newman. This Sanders Baldwin was probably a son of Thomas Baldwin who married Agnes Sanders and who was a grandson of John Baldwin, the emigrant to Virginia in 1621.

It is said that the wife of Edward Baldwin died early, about 1757, and the children were reared by Messrs. Wilson, Fieldhall and Woodward, who were family connections. The elder son James Baldwin, occupied the homestead, while Henry, after he got out of the Army, was seated at Rising Sun, adjoining his brother's estate in Anne Arundel County. This Rising Sun is still standing. It is owned by the Anne Arundel County Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and is used as their Chapter House. (It may be seen on the General's Highway at its junction with Waterbury Road about nine miles west of Annapolis.)

Edward Baldwin married, circa 1747, Susan Meek and had issue:

- i. James, b 1748 (?): d 1810:m Sarah Rawlings: b 1749
- ii. Henry³, of whom later.
- iii. Deborah
- iv. Lydia

LIEUTENANT HENRY BALDWIN

III

HENRY BALDWIN³, (Edward², Henry¹), was born the twenty-third of December, 1753, and died the fifth of October, 1793, both in Anne Arundel County, Maryland. He is said to have been buried near his home "Rising Sun" but his grave has not been located. The Anne Arundel Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution have erected a marker on the south side of the General's Highway about one-quarter of a mile east of Rising Sun commemorating the approximate site thereof. As previously stated he lived at Rising Sun, at least from the time he got out of the army until his death, and all of his children were presumably born there.

On the thirty-first of December, 1774, an agreement was entered into between William Woodward, Sr., of Anne Arundel County, of the one part, and James and Henry Baldwin, of the other part, in the matter of boundaries of their respective lands. On the eighth of May, 1783, Henry and James Baldwin convey land to William Woodward of Anne Arundel County, and on the ninth of June, 1789, Robert Couden, of Annapolis, merchant, releases to Henry Baldwin of same county, "gentleman", part of "Howard's First Choice" and "Howard's and Porter's Range".

On the twenty-sixth of July, 1792, James Baldwin of Anne Arundel County, "planter", and Captain Henry Baldwin of same County, both sons of and devisees of Edward Baldwin, formerly of Anne Arundel County, deceased, partition their respective lands. "Whereas, said Edward Baldwin, by his will dated the twenty-ninth of August, 1759, devised to said James Baldwin and Henry Baldwin and their heirs, forever, the lands mentioned in said will", the said James and Henry agreed to make partition of said lands: namely, parts of "Howard's and Porter's Range" (formerly the property of their father, Edward Baldwin), and "Howard's First Choice". The document was signed by James Baldwin and Henry Baldwin, with consent of the latter's wife, Maria Baldwin.

On the eighth of May, 1793, William Woodward (with wife Jane) and James Baldwin, all of Anne Arundel County, convey to Henry Baldwin, part of "The Maiden" (thirty and one-half acres), and on the same date Henry Baldwin (with wife Maria) and James Baldwin convey to William Woodward, Sr., part of the same tract, and "Howard's and Porter's Range".

On the twenty-fourth of July, Maria Baldwin, widow of Captain Henry Baldwin, deceased, manumits a negro girl named Eleanor.

Henry Baldwin is styled "gentleman" and, also, "captain" in the records. He was appointed a sergeant in the Third Regiment, Maryland Line, the twenty-sixth of February, 1777, and commissioned Ensign the twenty-seventh of May, 1778; Commissioned Lieutenant in same Regiment the eleventh of February, 1780; signed as Lieutenant in a "Return of the Commissioned, Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates of the 3rd Company, under Captain John Sprigg Delt, who have been in the service since the first of August, (1780) to the first of January, 1781". He appears as Lieutenant of the 4th, Company, 3rd Battalion, commanded by Captain Francis Revolly: again, as Lieutenant in the 2nd Regiment, in the arrangement of the Maryland Line, of the first of January, 1783, and finally, in a list of "accounts settled", covering a period of continuous service from the first of August, 1780, to the fifteenth of November, 1783.

Heitman, in his Register of Revolutionary War Officers, furnishes this record of Henry Baldwin, of Maryland: "Sergeant, 3rd Maryland, the twentieth of February, 1777: Ensign and Quartermaster 3rd Maryland, the twenty-seventh of May, 1778: Lieutenant, the eleventh of February, 1780: transferred to 2nd Maryland, the first of January, 1783: retained in Maryland Battalion April, 1783, and served to the fifteenth of November, 1783".

The records of the United States Pension Bureau at Washington, show that Bounty land warrant No. 245 for 200 acres of land was issued to Lieutenant Henry Baldwin, of the Maryland troops, Revolutionary War, the nineteenth of August, 1791, on account of his military service. This warrant was located in Delaware County, Ohio. Patent issued dated March 20, 1890.

The foregoing regarding Henry Baldwin³ and his American Ancestors was copied almost verbatim from the book "Society of the Sons of the Revolution" (Charts 17 & 21) which was privately published in 1925 by his six then surviving children. It is reproduced here with the kind permission of the sole remaining one of these children, Mrs. James (Dorothy) Sewell Baldwin (Charts 21 & 23).

Henry Baldwin was an original member of The Society of the Cincinnati. Unfortunately his only son William Henry (1792-1872, Chart 1) did not make application to succeed him. This is understandable for two reasons: 1) because said William Henry was only fourteen months old at the time of his father's death and probably had never heard of this Society, and; 2) because of the fact that during the early part of the last (19th) century the Society was moribund. However, the above William Henry's son, also named William Henry (1821-1902, Chart 17) applied for and was admitted to membership in 1892. After the latter William Henry's death the right was occupied successively by his two sons Frank Gambrell and Carroll Baldwin (Both Chart 18). As both of the latter two died without issue the right to membership then passed to another William Henry Baldwin (son of Richard, Chart 19). Once again a former member died without issue so the right then passed to and is now held by his nephew, Henry du Pont Baldwin.

Due to the fact that a fire in 1801 destroyed many of the records of the War Department it is extremely difficult and sometimes impossible to determine with complete accuracy just what campaigns and battles any particular Regiment took part. Were one to peruse the hundreds of books which have been written on the Revolution as well as collections of letters and memoirs of various participants perhaps an accurate picture could be obtained. This, of course, was far beyond the scope of this work. I was fortunate, however, to obtain access to a copy of Christopher Ward's "The War of the Revolution" from which, and from references cited therein, the following resume of the battles and hardships which Henry Baldwin probably endured is offered with the permission of the publishers of the aforesaid work. Please bear in mind that this is not in any way intended to be a definitive history of the 3rd Maryland Regiment. In many cases it was necessary to "read between the lines", in many instances assumptions had to be made, but I hope that it will give to you at least an inkling of the hardships and sufferings, aside from the strain of actual combat, that our forebear went through.

As stated before Henry Baldwin enlisted in the Continental Army in February, 1777, and was made a sergeant in the 3rd Regiment of the Maryland Continental Line. As this regiment was part of Washington's Army which was in winter quarters at Morristown, New Jersey, at that time it is to be presumed that he went there at once. It is known that at this time the 3rd was far below normal strength due to the extremely heavy losses it had sustained in the Battle of Long Island the previous fall and because many of the terms of enlistment had expired at the end of the year 1776.

Barring a few possible minor skirmishes the 3rd Maryland, although marched hither and yon as was the constant lot of foot soldiers in that war, saw no action until the Battle of the Brandywine in September where Washington endeavored to halt the British in their march from the head of the Elk where they had landed in Maryland to Philadelphia. Again Howe essayed the same outflanking movement that had almost captured the entire American Army in the Battle of Long Island and again Washington was caught napping. That the 3rd Maryland was in the thick of the fight is a certainty. As to how they conducted themselves is uncertain. Every account of the battle the reader gives a different interpretation. The final outcome was, of course, a victory for Howe and the British. All that can be said for Washington's Army is that "though they had been as badly beaten as any Army could be without being destroyed, there was no panic; there was no suggestion of despair." (1)

The following month (October 1777) Washington essayed one of his rare attacks on the British at Germantown. Sullivan's Brigade which embraced the 3rd Maryland formed the spearhead. They drove the British back until they ran out of ammunition and were forced to retire and soon the American Army was in retreat once again, but once again historians are unanimous in their praises of the Maryland and Delaware Continentals.

Following a few minor skirmishes Washington went into Winter Quarters at Valley Forge. For once the 3rd Maryland got a break as it and the Delaware Continentals were assigned to duty at Fort Delaware near Wilmington to protect that port and thus escaped the rigors of the terrible winter at Valley Forge.

There was no activity in 1778 until June when Clinton, who had succeeded Howe, decided to evacuate Philadelphia for New York. Washington followed with harassing raids and at Kormouth Court House saw an opportunity to capture Clinton's entire rear guard. General Lee was in the advance, among his troops being the 3rd Maryland. Lee had opposed the proposed attack from the start. He was ordered to attack at dawn. Instead he delayed until eight o'clock when he issued contradictory and confusing orders to his subordinates finally, ordering a retreat with the 3rd Maryland in the rear, covering. In the meantime Washington had been told that the entire British rear under Cornwallis had been captured, instead when he came on the scene he found Lee's contingents in more or less confused retreat with the British in hot pursuit. Gradually Washington regrouped the rest of his Army. Then Cornwallis slipped away in the night.

This ended all major engagements for Washington's Army that year, and, as far as can be ascertained, the 3rd Maryland was not engaged in any action during 1779 although there was the usual marching and counter-marching.

Washington again elected to spend the winter of 1779 and 1780 at Morristown. "It has been described truthfully as the worst during the war" (1)

"Though Valley Forge is fixed forever in the popular imagination, it deserves forgetfulness in comparison with the second stay at Morristown . . . Very early that winter the cold came. And such cold! There had been nothing like it in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Roads disappeared under snow four feet deep. New York harbor was frozen over". (2) In February, DeKalb wrote "It is so cold the ink freezes on my pen, while I am sitting close to the fire." (3) But not only were they forced to suffer from incredible cold, they were feeling the pangs of hunger as well. Major Patten of the Delaware Regiment wrote on January 17th, "The Army has been reduced to the most Extreme want of provisions, having subsisted five days on half a pound of salt Beef and half a cup of Rice without any other kind of support whatever." (4) Paragraphs have been written citing the hardships of that terrible winter but this is enough to indicate what the troops endured.

There was no action for the 3rd Maryland during the first months of 1780 until April when Washington "put the Maryland Line and the Delaware Regiment, with the 1st Artillery of 18 field pieces, under marching orders immediately to give further succor to the Southern States" (5) H. B. Carrington in his "Battles of the American Revolution" has said: "It is just here that one fact in the struggle for American Independence should have specific notice. From 1776 before Boston and through the entire war, the States of Maryland and Delaware were represented on nearly every battlefield. Although their troops were few in numbers, they were distinguished for valor." Baron DeKalb was placed in command. They broke camp at Morristown on the 18th, marching through Philadelphia to the head of the Elk in Maryland. From here they went by boat to Petersburg, Virginia, and then marched fifteen or eighteen miles a day to Hillsboro, North Carolina, arriving there June 22nd. Due to the shortage of wagons they were forced to carry their own baggage. Any reader who traveled the red clay roads of this section 30 or 40 years ago can imagine what effect the heat and dust must have had. As an added attraction it appears that they were infested with ticks! And, of course, they were near starvation as usual. One of them wrote: "We marched from Hillsborough about the first of July, without an ounce of provision being laid up at any one point, often fasting for several days together, and subsisting upon green apples and pecanues; sometimes by detaching parties, we thought ourselves foisted, when by violence we seized a little fresh beef and cut and threshed out a little wheat; yet, under all these difficulties, we had to go forward." (6)

At this time, over the strenuous objections of General Washington, the Continental Congress placed General Gates at the head of the Armies in the Southern Command. DeKalb was under him, retaining his command of the Maryland and Delaware Regiments. DeKalb had planned to proceed to Camden, South Carolina, where Cornwallis was established with the bulk of the British Army in the south, by way of Charlotte, North Carolina. While this was a circuittous route the populace was friendly and the land fertile, and he would have the comforting assurance of a friendly country behind his Army in case of retreat". (7) Gates would have none of this but chose the shortest route to Camden "through infertile pine barrens, a kind of wilderness in which deep sand alternated with swamps, presenting obstacles for the passage of artillery and the few baggage wagons. Moreover, it was crossed by many water courses, liable to be impassably swollen by a few hours rain. More important was the fact that the scanty stores of food and forage had long since been gathered by the enemy. In addition to these disadvantages, the road traversed the Cross Creek country, the region of all the south most unfriendly to the American cause." (7)

The Battle of Camden was disastrous to the Americans. Worn out from forced marches, half starved, sick with dysentery from eating green corn and molasses, they were in no condition to fight. There were 800 Maryland and Delaware Continentals under DeKalb together with about 3000 raw Virginia and North Carolina Militia. Cornwallis had some 2200 seasoned troops. At the first charge the militia broke and retreated in disorder. Gates himself turned tail and lit out for Charlotte as fast as his horse would carry him. DeKalb's little group held and fought off attack after attack and even counter-charged driving the enemy back. But they were nearly surrounded and when Tarleton's Cavalry charged they were forced to retreat. That they were not completely wiped out was a miracle. The Army of the Southern States was virtually annihilated. Eventually about 700 men of Gates' defeated army ressembled at Hillsboro. Typically they were in large part remnants of the Maryland and Delaware Continentals!

Now Gates was relieved and General Greene given command. Gradually his little force was built up until it numbered some 2000 men. Then he made the unorthodox move of dividing his forces and sent 700 men (including the 3rd Maryland) into the western Carolinas under General Morgan. Their mission was "to protect the people, to annoy the enemy, and to collect and store provisions and forage." (8) He was joined by small detachments of Carolina Militia. Cornwallis ordered Tarleton, then at Ninety Six, South Carolina, to wipe out this force. After retreating Morgan decided to make a determined stand at Cowpens, South Carolina, forming his little force around the Continentals. On January 17, 1781 Tarleton attacked and the forward lines of Militia, after firing one volley, retreated as they had been ordered to do, falling back on the Continentals. There the line held and repulsed repeated charges by Tarleton's veteran troops. The ultimate outcome was complete victory. This victory, in which only relatively few troops were engaged, proved to be the turning point of the war in the south and can well be said to have been the forerunner of Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. It electrified and gave courage to the revolting colonists.

All of the information and quotations contained in the foregoing come from "The War of the Revolution" by Christopher Ward with the written permission of the publishers thereof.

It would serve little to continue even so meager an account of the activities during the next six months. It was the same story of march and counter-march, retreat and advance, sending out of harassing parties, cutting off of British foraging parties, interrupting baggage trains, all in the cold and rain or the sweltering heat, often without shoes and in ragged and insufficient uniforms (or perhaps better, clothing) and of course generally sick and half starved. As far as has been ascertained the 3rd Maryland did not participate in the next two significant engagements at Guilford Court House and ninety six. Neither of these were conclusive but because of them Cornwallis decided to abandon the Carolinas and move to Virginia via Portsmouth and Norfolk.

By September the 3rd Maryland, too, had moved to Virginia where it joined with contingents of Washington's Army from the north, Lafayette's troops already in Virginia and the French Army under Count de Rochambeau for the siege of Yorktown. While the 3rd was present at the siege and surrender there is no evidence that they took any part in the sporadic fighting which was mostly an artillery duel.

Thereafter there was no further campaigning for the Continental Army but it was held together more or less intact until after news of the signing of the treaty of peace on September 7, 1783 was received in this country.

It has been said that when Henry Baldwin returned after receiving his discharge on November 15th his property was about to be sold for non-payment of taxes. This hardly seems tenable as at that time it was held jointly by him and his brother James as has been shown heretofore.

The nuncupative will of Henry Baldwin was dated as of the third of October, 1793, and recorded the eleventh of February, 1794. It was very brief and recited the following bequest only: "It is my desire in case I die that my little grey horse, which Jerry Rawlins (his stepson) coarsely rides, and all my wearing apparel, except my watch, be given to Jerry Rawlins." In the Account of Sales in the office of the Register of Wills at Annapolis, is found an inventory of the estate of Henry Baldwin, dated the nineteenth of April, 1794, with Maria Baldwin as administratrix.

Captain Henry Baldwin married (1st) on the twenty-first of January, 1784, Sarah Hall, daughter of John Hall, and widow of Francis Rawlings, Jr. (d 1780): married (2nd) on the twenty-fifth of January, 1790, Maria Crahan Woodward.

REGARDING THE BALDWIN GENEALOGY

By following the lines and the references on the charts lineage may be traced from any given point. Lateral relationships may be verified in the same manner. It should be noted, however, that to avoid duplication in listings, in the case of cousin marriages (indicated by the letters A-A, B-B, etc. after the names) descendants are recorded from the male line only.

The following abbreviations are used on the charts:

- b-date of birth
- m-date of marriage
- d-date of death
- (1)-date of first marriage
- (2)-date of second marriage
- ...etc...
- (a)-adopted
- (div)-divorced

On the charts where no specific date follows the standard abbreviations (b,m,d) complete information is not currently available. Where no abbreviation (d) is noted, that member of the family is presumed to be still living.

To facilitate quick reading of the charts, all family surnames are capitalized, except where they are names acquired by previous marriage. In this case they appear in parenthesis. It will also be noted that the names of descendants appear in bold face letters than do those of their spouses and the statistics.

In the alphabetical index, each person is listed under the family name. Married women are recorded both by family and married name or names, the latter in parenthesis.

There is one family, that of William Cooke Worthington, (Chart 14), of which no trace has been found. Every effort has been made to locate any of the three children of the elder son, Richard Hardesty Worthington, but to no avail. The son, Frank Hardesty Worthington, is said to have moved "out west" prior to World War I but no one seems to know where.

In some instances there are family groups known to be alive today where complete data is not given. In all such cases one or more in each such group has received three or more letters requesting the missing information all of which have been ignored.

Space does not permit the listing of the many members of the family who have patiently and promptly replied to letters (sometimes several letters) asking for information. The single most valuable source of information was a chart which was prepared circa 1900 by the late Miss Roberta Hoopes (Chart 12) for the late Mrs. Henry Furlong Baldwin. (see Pauline du Pont, Chart 19). This was in pencil on ordinary brown wrapping paper so brittle that it was so badly crumpled in many places that it took three days to piece it together and mount it on cloth before attempting to work with it. It showed four generations of Henry Baldwin's family as well as the descendants of his second wife by her second husband (they had 9 children). As these were all encompassed on a single sheet 26" X 54", as can well be imagined condensed into such a comparatively small area the lines of descent often of necessity crossed and recrossed and it took considerable study to lay out a series of work charts (there were 42 of these) to form the foundation from which the final charts were derived. Without this old chart the compilation of this work would have been much more difficult if not impossible. Unfortunately no dates were shown on this. Mention must also be made of Mrs. Thomas H. G. Bailliere and Richard C. Riggs, Esq., (both Chart 4), who made available the monumental work of their late father, General Clinton L. Riggs, which furnished many dates as well as information regarding the fifth generation of the Crowell branch. Also, mention must be made of Mrs. Emily F. Humphries, Jr., (Chart 19) who made available the writings and work papers of her mother, the late Mrs. Frederic Jay (once Baldwin) Cotton, which were invaluable in working out the probable English ancestry of Henry Baldwin. To these and all who have cheerfully assisted in the compilation of this work the author is eternally indebted.

It is interesting to note that there are 696 descendants of Henry Baldwin on the charts of whom 521 are presumably living. Among those living there is one of the fourth generation, Mrs. James (Dorothy Sewell Baldwin) Carretson, who is living today. In the fifth generation there are 41 still living.

1. The first part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders. The report also mentions that the records should be kept up-to-date and should be accessible to all relevant personnel.

2. The second part of the report describes the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It includes a detailed explanation of the sampling process and the statistical techniques employed. The report also discusses the challenges faced during the data collection process and how they were overcome.

3. The third part of the report presents the results of the study. It includes a series of tables and graphs that illustrate the findings. The report also discusses the implications of the results and provides recommendations for future research. The report concludes by stating that the study has provided valuable insights into the company's operations and has identified areas for improvement.
